

Cover: With a commitment and passion that is unequaled, Alan and Jan Marie Rushforth continue to be the property management industry's strongest advocate of solar hot water. They have tirelessly lobbied, sent out informational papers, addressed legislators and teamed with a host of environmental groups. Their company, Rushforth Solar, has proven to be a cost-effective beacon for those who not only talk "green" but walk "green" as well. Among the many they have served are Lindy Property Management and The Galman Group, two leaders in the apartment industry. They are heading the solar industry's efforts to return state subsidies ...and it is one they will most certainly win -Page 36
